

There are no translations available.

GappBridging is a world leader in holistic business process management. Our methods and tools have enabled hundreds of organizations to improve their business operations, the communication and relationships between departments, and the relationships with their customers.

Through years of research and practical application, we have identified the key success factors that ensure successful, even exciting, change in an organization. The resulting experience is our unique application of holistic business process management, hBPM.

GappBridging has experience with hundreds of projects and organizations all over the world. We achieve results through process change programs that include: activity-based training, coaching, consulting and membership in our center for advanced application, hBPM In Practice™,ç.

Â

Management Team